

WHITE-CENTRIC NO MORE

Diversity, Intersectionality and Affective Reparation in Contemporary Romance

22/04/2024

Sala de Juntas Departamento de
Filología, Inglesa, Francesa y Alemana

11:00 Welcome

11:05 “Why Romance Matters in Postcolonial Studies: Reading, Researching and Rethinking the Genre”

Paloma Fresno Calleja, University of the Balearic Islands, Spain

11.25 “Subverting Whiteness in Chick Lit: Candice Carty-Williams’s Queenie”

Heike Mißler, Saarland University, Germany

12.15 “A ‘Muslim Bridget Jones’? Challenging
Misrepresentations and Re-making Genre
in British Muslim Romance and Chick Lit”

Amy Burge, University of Birmingham, UK

23/04/2024

11.00 “The Professor as an Intersectional Romance Protagonist: Gender, Race, Class and Sexuality in the University-Set Romance Novel”

Jayashree Kamblé, La Guardia Community
College, USA

12.00 “Exploring Anachronism, Ornamentalism, and Citizenization in the Postracial
Regency World of Bridgerton”

Hsu-Ming Teo, Macquarie University, Australia

12:45 Conclusions: HFN

Organisers:

Research project
PID2021-122249NB-I00

Funded by:

MCIU/AEI 10.13.39/501100011033
and by ERDF/EU

In collaboration with:

